10 months old bitch very immature in her outline and balance, and I would like more of her overall, rather petit and insignificant, very feminine head on the shorter side, would profit from a better mask and darker eyes, very good ears that she uses well, good rise of neck, moderate ang in front, would like more bone and substance all the way. Prefer more pronounced withers which would give her more drama to her outline, her best thing is her side movement also reasonable coming and going.
